FOREWORD

Progress, inspiration, dedication — these forces have united to make Eastern Nazarene College a part of God's blueprint for the world and for our individual lives. E.N.C. is not thirteen acres with eleven buildings, nor elms and sidewalks and flowers. If she were only these, she would not exist. She is more than eye can see, more than mind can imagine, and more than heart can feel. She has been built not on acreage but on holy ground which God in His marvelous ways has provided through the inspiration of a few dedicated men of God. She has her foundations not in earthly soil, but in the Solid Rock, Christ Jesus. She was once only a dream; a dream which became a plan and soon became a reality.

Today she is even more than a reality as a Christian college standing in the age of Sputniks, Godless philosophy, and worldwide unrest. She has been dedicated to God and His service by providing a top-quality liberal arts education for young Christians of today — young Christians who will become the leaders of tomorrow and on whom rests the spreading of the gospel to "every creature."

E.N.C. is an important part in God's blueprint for this age.

PLANNING FOR PROGRESS

INTELLECTUALLY

Dave Blachly explains the process going on in the test tube to Bob Cubie.

Members of the Spanish Class go over the day's translation after completing a vocabulary test for Miss Balwit.

A view of the Nease Library shows students intently studying, doing research, and perhaps even day-dreaming.

As a college, E.N.C. strives for truth: as a Christian college, she places no limits on the search for truth. She is not as an atheist or an agnostic who gathers up truths to support erroneous theories. We as E.N.C. students are taught to have open minds to all evidences of truth and to search for the depths of truth. Inevitably we arrive at one conclusion: there is a God Who is real. He has revealed Himself in His Son. Christ can dwell in our hearts and make us new creatures. There is no proof more valid to the individual than his own personal experience.

A building rises behind the Mansion in testimony to intellectual progress this year. Other evidences are seen in an increased teaching staff and revisions in courses offered to students. Two previously part-time professors have become full-time instructors this year; three new professors have joined the staff, Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, Dr. Harold W. Darling and Mr. Donald L. Young.

Our entire chemistry department has been changed. Courses have been revised and laboratory requirements altered in order to produce well-equipped E.N.C. students who will take their place as Christian scientists in this age of Sputniks and Explorers. Most of the departments of the college have been expanded this year in some manner. Dr. Akers has announced a bigger-than-ever debate program; many literature courses have been revised; compulsory foreign language exams have been initiated.

E.N.C. has progressed intellectually this year — not blindly, but toward a goal: the goal of graduating high calibre Christians able to efficiently serve the world of today which so desperately needs doctors, lawyers, scientists, nurses, teachers, housewives, and preachers who are stable, ambitious, honest, dependable, and sincere — citizens who are grounded in the Rock, Christ Jesus.

Howard Guard, Abram Rose, and Val Worden enjoy the solitude of the mezzanine carrells for their afternoon studying.

SPIRITUALLY

Beth Albert kneels in the quietness of the prayer room and evening for a few moments of meditation.

Grant Swank directs the hospital choir accompanied by Clara Shaw as they bring cheer to patients in the hospital and nursing homes.

Dr. Jessop brings another inspiring message to the students in chapel.

Religion: a big word to a child, an indifference to the majority, a life to our forefathers, a reality to a Christian. E.S. Brightman says: "Religion ought to be characterized by a feeling of dependence on a personal God and dominated by the will to cooperate with God in the conservation and increase of value." Wealth, fame, fortune — they are the obsession of the contemporary man and woman, and college student. Peace of heart and mind, a goal with a purpose, a life of hope — these are the heartbeat of the Christian college student. While the secular university strives for an answer for a generation in peril, the Christian college answers, "Jesus Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

Evidences of spiritual progress on E.N.C.'s campus this year have been seen in the increased interest in church activities, school religious organizations, and most important, in students' lives. The N.Y.P.S. adopted a new idea in programs this year calling for more student participation.

A deep spiritual conviction has rested over many full-house services at the college church as our new pastor, Rev. Martin, brought forth the Word of God in forceful language.

Campus indications of spiritual progress are displayed by the great increase in the number of mission teams, and the new fervor for the children of South Boston in Boston Chapel.

But real spiritual progress came not by the outward signs ,but by the inward inspiration, concern, and consecration of students as individuals. As the songs rang across campus after-hours on Tuesdays, as a student took refuge in the prayer room to find the answer to the overwhelming problem, as the confessions came forth after the altar service, as students went from door to door telling the Good News, as courageous hearts testified to employers, as consistent glowing lives sought a better understanding of today's world — then we saw real spiritual progress.

Foreign students bow their heads in prayer to show the united spirit of our religion. This part of the Junior Class's Thanksgiving program was especially well received by the student body at the annual Thanksgiving Chapel.

PLANNING FOR PROGRESS

SOCIALLY

A group of students relax in the corner of the Dug-out, a favorite spot for relaxation, recreation and social intermingling.

Girls from Munro Hall wait at midnight to welcome Carolyn Lanpher from a big date.

Life: an existence to the destitute, an unalterable to the newlyweds, a challenge to the Christian. Bailey said: "It matters not how long we live, but how." Social progress is a progress toward the fullest and most meaningful life.

"No man is an island." He lives with others, he shares with others, he depends on others, he must learn to get along with others. Life at college can be hectic or it can be serene; it all depends on you and your relations with others, your attitude towards others, and your love for others.

The end of the day. A lingering "good night" on the steps of Munro Hall parlor ends another day for Dick Mann and Vonnie Woods.

Students of a Christian College are challenged constantly with social problems. What others think, how it effects my life, what God thinks, whether or not it makes me a better person — these we must think of each time we make a social decision. The cowards back out and seek refuge where one dictates to them; the valiant meet these problems sword in hand and come out courageous citizens. Eastern Nazarene College presents this challenge to her students.

E.N.C. has progressed socially this year. Family-style meals provided a compulsory way of meeting and understanding many very different people with different attitudes from different countries and from different types of homes. Encouraged class discussions lead to new insights on popular social problems. E.N.C.'s new counseling system provided an inviting place to unload our social burdens. Our Vice-president did an outstanding job this year in heightening interest in our three annual parties. Friday nights were scenes of the most thrilling of all the social successes, the date.

Genuine, inner-satisfying social progress comes from the cluttered mailboxes, the chatter between classes, the "no" when you had to study, the full sign-out book, the Friday nights, the pizza or donuts, the class ring, the rustle of taffeta, the excitement when opening the corsage box, the midnight "per," the shadows on the walks just before Westminister called ten, the Dugout, the "sparkle," the wedding plan, the tear at graduation, the anxiety for the fall, the deep, serene calmness that this has been another year and we have won.

A couple pause on the steps of the romantic Mansion before hurrying in to beat the ten o'clock curfew.

PLANNING FOR PROGRESS

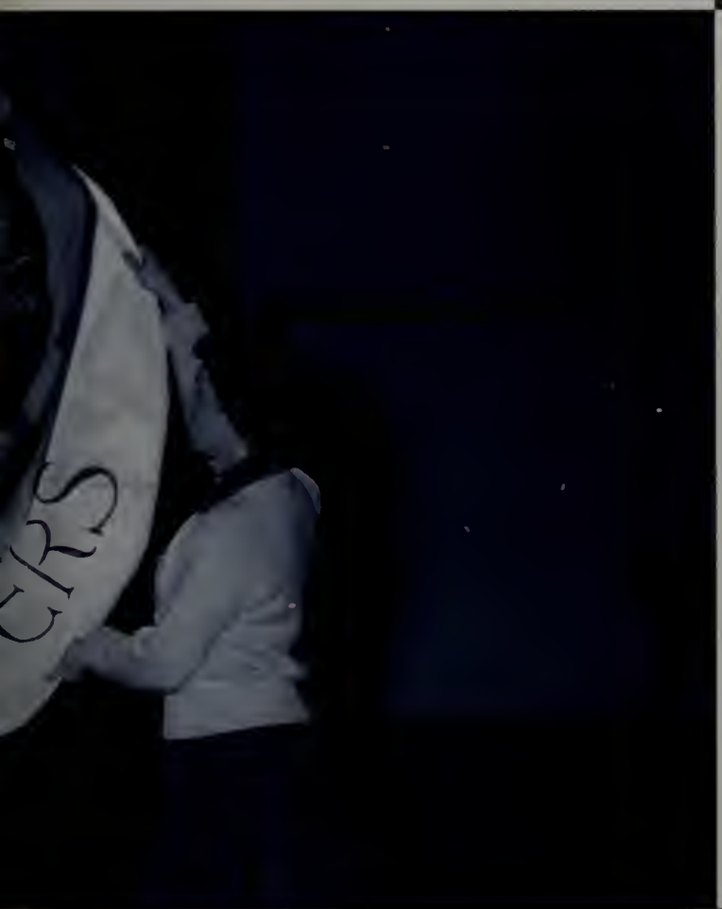
PHYSICALLY

Jack Smith jumps through the Crusader hoop to open an exciting basketball season.

Fred Boden fires a pass down field in one of the strongly contested games of the football series.

Relaxing: a life to the lazy, an answer to the frustrated, a dream to the occupied, an essential to the college student. Good said, "Now happiness consists in activity: such is a constitution of our nature: it is a running stream, and not a stagnant pool." Physical progress is a progress toward enjoying life to its fullest extent.

Jimmy Jones serves a spinning ball over the net to help him and his partner, Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, place second in the tennis championship.



Everyone needs to relax — especially a college student. Even a few minutes on a baseball field can do wonders for a frustrated, dejected college student. Forty minutes in a class never made a Robin Hood out of anyone, but it provided a means for release of built-up tension. In a sense each team wins in any game for they have won something much more valuable than a trophy. They have won a new start and gained a new determination to fight just as hard in the game of life.

Eastern Nazarene College has experience physical progress this year. One of the most outstanding examples are our new football rules designed to interest more students in our intramural program. Remember the Delta-Zeta game in the rain? There was no clapping: one hand firmly held an umbrella handle.

Basketball has been better than ever this year. Our freshman class brought with them bundles of enthusiasm and passed it all around. Attendance and interest at society games was at a high and records were set as the spectators cheered the dribbling Crusaders on to continual victories.

The real evidence of physical progress were displayed on the athletic field during spare periods as the fellows met informally for a scrimmage; and in Munro after ten as the girls did their beauty one-two-three-four's.

Betty Harris attempts to put another serve over the net for the Zetas. Volleyball was one of the most highly contested of the sports for this year.

DEDICATION

To One Whose Life Testifies of Planned Progress . . .

In his career in industry . . . He has been an outstanding figure in the field of milk technology and in this area he is considered an international authority. That he was editor of the Journal of Milk Technology and has received national awards for his work indicates his progressive achievement in chemical research.

In his devotion to Christian education . . . He has given the later years of his life to the education of Christian youth. In the spirit of progress he built the Department of Chemistry to one of the strongest in the college so that scores of graduates in the department have gone from his tutelage to successful careers. With his eye on the future he has not only urged that everything possible be done to achieve accreditation of this college but he has also played a vital part in securing that accreditation. In his classes, his lectures are thought-stimulating and mind-challenging. One notices that his keen mind is alert to find better ways of teaching.

In his Christian endeavor . . . He ever seeks a closer relationship to God. His life exhibits a spiritual sensitivity rarely seen. He was founder and for many years the editor of The Christian Scholar. He now edits his own publication, The Religious Inquiry, which is devoted to the interrelationship of religion and science. His is a mind willing to face every fact and consider the consequences of each fact as he continues to progress towards his Creator.

We, the staff, dedicate this, the 1959 Nautilus . . .

to an administrator and educator,
to a true Christian Scholar,
to Dr. James Houston Shrader.

Eager, inquiring minds impatiently await the completion of the new science building. E.N.C. students will be better equipped to learn to search for the enlightening doors to nature's mysterious unity. A learned individual is a thinking individual and thinking individuals have been the backbone of our faith, our country, and our freedom. Clear perception, truth, and facts are the weapons with which we arm ourselves for the future.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

E. N. C.'s progress lies in the hands of faithful, dedicated businessmen, pastors, and general superintendents across the zone who serve her as members of the Board of Trustees and the Development Council. These able men are entrusted with the responsibility of the control of our college.

The last Wednesday of each September finds the Board of Trustees on the campus discussing the vital issues of the coming year. The meetings are called to order by the chairman, Dr. E. E. Grosse. Also serving as officers of the Board are Mr. Leonard Spangenberg as vice chairman, Rev. Renard Smith as secretary, and Mr. Maurice R. Emery as treasurer. Representatives from each district, all district superintendents, two members of the Alumni Association, and the President of the college, Dr. Edward S. Mann constitute the roll of the Board of Trustees.

The cornerstone laying ceremony on September twenty-fourth was the highlight of this year's annual meeting of the Board and the Council. The A Cappella choir sang and the student body looked on as various items of significance were placed in the cornerstone to be perserved forever as a mark of E. N. C.'s progress.

Rev. E. E. Grosse places a Bible in the chest to be enclosed in the cornerstone of the new science building. G. B. Williamson, R. B. Smith, and L. G. Pasqualucci, contractor, look on.

THE PRESIDENT

In an editorial in the first Nautilus published thirty-seven years ago, it is explained that the staff for the new yearbook has selected "a name redolent of New England atmosphere, aglow with the inspiration of noble purpose . . . The lesson of the nautilus," the editorial states, "is the eternal necessity of growth . . . The records of history are not complete. Much has been achieved, but much remains to be done. In engineering, in business, in the arts, in the professions, in philosophy, in Christian statesmanship and Christian missions, there is room . . . to develop individual talents and satisfy loftiest aspirations."

The passing of time has vindicated the prophetic tone of that first editorial. The years have produced growth in enrollment, in faculty additions, in course offerings, in degrees conferred, in educational recognition, in buildings and facilities. But even those accomplishments, as significant as they are, do not satisfy the prime objective of E.N.C. It is only when the individual student catches the vision of the possibilities of intellectual and spiritual growth that the true aim of Eastern Nazarene College is realized. The student himself must "build more stately mansions" for his own soul if he is to become the fulfillment of the dreams of the editorial writer of the Nautilus of 1922.

DEAN EMERITUS

Dean Munro has been an essential part of making E.N.C. what it is today. Our Dean since the founding in 1918 and now our beloved Dean Emeritus, Bertha Munro has by her consistent, God-fearing life been a testimony to our motto: "Jesus Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

She is especially dear to her Sunday school girls as a model of true Christianity, and to all who read her books as a woman inspired by and used of God.

She teaches her literature students to formulate their own criticisms of great writings. She is stern and observant, but kind and fair. Making us think about life is her aim; reading endless numbers of our papers is her dedication; and leading us into the knowledge of Jesus Christ as Savior and Sanctifier is her goal.

DEAN

The intellectual progress of a college depends greatly upon its academic rating. Our efficient Dean, Dr. Alvin H. Kauffman, keeps E.N.C.'s curriculum well organized as well as serving as chairman of the Committee on Academic Policy.

Many students also know Dean Kauffman as an excellent teacher and philosopher, as well as a counselor on schedule problems. He understands students' questions and always can find five minutes to discuss a classroom problem.

Dr. Kauffman ably serves as E.N.C.'s representative to various conferences on academic policy and keeps our scholastic rating equal to that of the very best institutions of higher learning.

A versatile man, Dean Kauffman does outstanding art work — everything from illustrated chapel talks to sketches of our new science building. He is often called upon to give talks and his position makes frequent demands on his writing ability. A competent advisor to the Nautilus staff for years, he never runs out of new ideas.

His quiet, practical, Christian life and his personal devotion to the Saviour make him an important part in God's blueprint for E.N.C.

The Elizabethan Age, the Reformation, abnormal children, the heathen and income tax returns are but a very few of the many facets of study in the Division of Social Science, Professor Akers, Chairman. To help us to understand people, the way they act, the way they govern themselves, and the way to teach them — these are the purposes in the hearts of these earnest professors.

To think — there is no greater virtue. We read Plato and Aristotle, Aquinas, Luther, and Calvin to learn how great minds have thought, and what they have believed about man and his relation to God and the world. The Division of Philosophy and Religion, under the Chairmanship of Professor Mullen, aids us in drawing up our own philosophy of life and our own theology.

Da Vinci's Mona Lisa and Picasso's Three Musicians never look quite the same after an intensive course in Fine Arts; nor do Verdi's Aida or Copland's The Cat and the Mouse sound the same.

The faculty of the Division of Fine Arts, whose chairman is Professor Willwerth, have guided our minds to appreciate the fine arts and guided our voices and our fingers to sing and play beautiful music.

Odysseus becomes a real person and T. S. Eliot's Wasteland becomes a reality as we study literature from Professor Munro, Chairman of the Division of Letters. To teach us poise and confidence in our speaking, to teach us all the exceptions to the rules in English, French, Spanish and German, and to teach us about life — these are the aims of these dedicated professors.

DIVISION CHAIRMEN

Our new science building is the heartbeat of the Division of Science and Mathematics, under the leadership of Professor Shrader. It stands as a testimony of E. N. C.'s faith in the future of her students, as they take their places in the world of the Nautilus, the Sputnik, and the Explorer.

Teaching us to learn, to think, and to apply what we have learned that we may better understand the marvelous world God has created is the goal of these able professors.

GRADUATING IN 1959

BACHELOR OF THEOLOGY CANDIDATES

Nevin Crouse

Once in a while on campus, and especially in the library, one will see an E.N.C. alumnus carrying a brief case. He is not here representing the firm which employs him, but has returned to work for another degree.

For young men, and women too, who are planning to go into the ministry or who just like theology courses, E.N.C. offers a Bachelor of Theology degree for one year of graduate work. Many of E.N.C.'s potential preachers take this equivalent to the first year of seminary here and spend only two years in Kansas City.

Most of our Th.B.'s are married while they have somewhat less interest in campus affairs. They are part of our total student body — a part of which we are very proud.

Miss Adrienne A. Anthony
Eastern Nazarene College
Wollaston 70, Massachusetts

Dear Miss Anthony:

You have been recommended to us from your campus for recognition in the 1958-59 Edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. It is a pleasure to tell you that your nomination has been accepted.

The students recognized by this organization each year are nominated from approximately 750 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise of future usefulness.

The organization awards each member a certificate of recognition, presented on the campus either at graduation or earlier in the year. Also, it provides a placement or reference service to assist members seeking employment, scholarships or fellowships, etc. There is no cost to members for inclusion in the publication or for any of the services rendered by the organization.

Before you fill in the blank forms that accompany this letter, please read the Instruction Sheet; this sheet explains the nature of each form and the purpose for which it will be used. It is your responsibility to complete your forms carefully, particularly the two biography blanks and to mail your completed forms to this office promptly. One of the Employment Forms should be returned with your other forms; and the other along with your requests for recommendation. Try to return your forms within ten days at the latest so there will be no chance of omission.

Our staff wishes to add its compliments to those you have received on the campus and to extend you a cordial welcome. We hope you will consider this recognition a small reward for work well done and an encouragement for the future.

Sincerely yours,

H. Pettus Randall

The inward inspiration, the concern and the consecration of individual lives toward a goal were visible signs of spiritual growth. Through the consecration, students learned the meaning of the words of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam: "The moving finger writes; and having writ, moves on: nor all thy piety nor wit shall lure it back to cancel half a line, nor all thy tears wash out a word of it."

PLAN FOR SPIRITUAL GROWTH

The Christian way embraces all of life. It finds eternal meaning and value in every experience. This is a way of life that means a pattern after God's own planning.

An old parable tells of a young man who sat by the seashore and the wind blew many beautifully colored straws around him. As they piled up, a voice said, "Weave, young man."

So he went to work. All day long he wove a pattern — the best his mind and heart could produce. At evening, weary, he lay down to rest and the wind carried all the loose straw away. In the morning, he awoke to find only the tapestry he had woven remaining.

What wonderfully brilliant strands the winds of time pile around us! Only Christ can give us the pattern worth the weaving. But He can! Cleansing the guilt and stain of sin, He gives us a clean heart and a new life. Into our surrendered heart and consecrated mind, He puts His design.

The Holy Spirit's presence and power is a restless voice always saying, "Weave, young man." And before we realize or wish it, the evening comes — and then the eternal morning. For all who have taken "the way," there remains in the light of a never setting eternal sun the pattern of God's plan all radiant and bright.

Mrs. Alice Kauffman, Junior Society Leader

Miss Donna Altic, Pastor's Assistant

Professor Willwerth, Director of the Church Choir.

Strands of song are woven together into one big beautiful carpet of music as the organ rolls and the choir sings. Music has a ministry of its own, not to be paralleled by any other form of communication. Such strains as "If With All Your Heart" and "The Mercy Seat" bring us close to God and are an essential part of church worship.

Prof. Willwerth again this year was in charge of the church choir accompanied by the church organist, Mrs. Patricia Foley. Something new was added for Sunday nights. A committee of four conferred with the pastor on special music including mixed choirs representing various college and church groups.

CHURCH MUSIC

The soloists, Harold Stetson, tenor, Miss Patricia Connor, soprano, Mrs. Esther Williamson, contralto, and Lyle Jewell, bass, stand for a final ovation after the production of Handel's Messiah.

Rolland W. Parsons, Superintendent of the Sunday School

The Wollaston Church of the Nazarene has the important task of providing a home Sunday School for five hundred students away from home.

Contests added new spark this year and resulted in increased interest and attendance in Sunday School. The upperclassmen realized defeat in the September fight, but came out carrying the banner in November. And the presidents of all the classes enjoyed a delicious meal at Rev. Martin's expense.

Classes are provided for all ages in the Wollaston Sunday School. College students assist with the smaller children who meet in the church wing. Various college classes meet in the Ad Building and Canterbury and students have a choice as to what class they wish to attend.

To be remembered most will be the Sunday mornings at nine when the ambitious ones pounded on doors and called for everyone to rise and shine.

The Nazarene Young People's Society of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene seeks to provide spiritual enrichment for the students of our college by promoting Christian fellowship through our weekly Sunday evening service, bi-weekly singspirations, and weekly prayer cells.

A membership committee was organized for the first time this year. The newly initiated "Programs with a Purpose" divided the society members into four groups, each group being responsible for one Sunday evening program each month.

The year was climaxed by our annual N.Y.P.S. Week-end Revival in the spring which gave a personal challenge to each one of our hearts.

The Evangelistic Association of Eastern Nazarene College exists with a twofold purpose guiding its activities. The Association upholds the very principles upon which our College was founded, endeavoring in all of its activities to honor God and assist in the propagation of holiness. Of no less importance is our purpose to provide an outlet for Christian service to all of the students of E.N.C. With every opportunity comes a responsibility. Our responsibility is to God and the men and women of Boston and Quincy who need a personal Savior.

The Association's members comprise fourteen evangelistic teams which go to six Boston Missions and the Massachusetts Prison Farm in Danvers. The Association's three hospital choirs sing at two Quincy hospitals and three nursing homes in the Quincy area. These experiences not only offer experience to future ministers and laymen, but provide glorious opportunities to win souls for the kingdom of God.

Another area of service which the Evangelistic Association has entered this year is a program of assisting the churches of the New England area. This assistance takes the form of fill-in preachers, special music for Sunday and week-end services, youth meetings and short week-end revivals.

God has blessed us with these opportunities for service and we are happy that we can be "fellow helpers to the truth."

Grant Swank directs one of the choirs in a Sunday Service.

STUDENT FOREIGN MISSIONS FELLOWSHIP

"A church without missions is a church without a mission." The Student Foreign Missions Fellowship has attempted this year to make the cause of missions more real to E.N.C. students.

Those who attended the Thursday evening prayer meetings were reminded of the urgent needs on the mission fields by missionaries' prayer requests.

Among this year's projects was the collection of one hundred and twenty hypodermic needles for a mission hospital in Nicaragua. In October the S.F.M.F. conducted the Alabaster Box opening service. At Christmastime greetings were sent to all the missionaries.

February was the high point of the S.F.M.F.'s year, when the Fourth Annual Missionary Workshop was held. Our missionary guests for those few days were Rev. Ronald Denton, Uruguay; Rev. and Mrs. Howard Grantz, Peru; Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hetrick, Africa; and Miss Agnes Willox, India. Many students responded to the call of missions as a result of their talks in chapel and classes, and individual conferences aimed at individual needs.

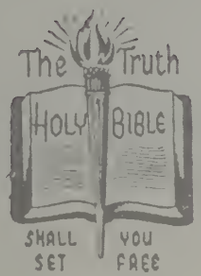
STUDENT MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION



"That we may be better prepared to tell them" is the aim, purpose, and desire of the Student Ministerial Association. At one of our monthly meetings we were privileged to have as our guest speaker D. John Beek, an Old Testament scholar from Boston University. Our own Dr. Gardner and Rev. Martin were also among the speakers for this year.

We were thrilled by the promise of the ministry as those of our student ministers shared their approach to the gospel with the student body at our annual chapel series.

The highlight of the year was our tour through Walpole State Prison which was conducted personally by Warden John Gavin who gave us an inside look at crime and sin.

Our fellowship banquet climaxed the year with a good dinner, excellent after-dinner speaker, and the installation of the new officers for the coming year.

A man must live with others: he must share with others. But most of all, he must get along with others. His relationships with others, his attitudes toward others and his love for others combine to determine whether or not his is the fullest and most meaningful life.

PLAN FOR SOCIAL LIFE

Student Leaders gather to discuss the issues for the coming year.

Dr. Gardner, Chairman of the workshop, recognized each speaker.

STUDENT LEADERS' WORKSHOP

Dr. Gould, Dr. G. B. Williamson, Dr. Mann, Mayor Della Chiesa, Dr. J. H. Shrader, Rev Grosse, and Contractor, Pasqualeucci pose at the groundbreaking ceremony.

The part of our campus lying between the Canterbury and the church, the Mansion and Wendell Avenue was once simply a plot of ground. But what was once grass and trees has been transformed this year into a miracle of masonry, piping, wiring, and tile.

Construction of the new science building got well under way in May, 1958. The needs of the science division had been translated into detailed specifications by the science faculty and the architects.

The first earth is moved for the four hundred thousand dollar project.

The finished science building will be an ever present symbol of the progress of our college.

Each of the three floors of the new 65 foot by 105 foot brick structure contains laboratories, offices, and lecture rooms for one of the three science departments — biology, chemistry, and physics. Adjacent to the building will be a large ultra modern greenhouse to replace the present one located beside the Manchester.

The purpose of this great undertaking is to provide facilities with which to help all of the students of the college to take their places as citizens in a science-conscious world.

Many hundreds of man hours went into the interior finishing of the building.

The actual construction of the Science Building began in mid-July.

SENIOR TRIP SONG

Tune: "Down by the Station"

Off to the Elm top,
Early in the morning,
See all the Seniors
Raring to go.
Salt in the coffee,
Salt in the fruit juice,
Packed up, toot toot,
Off we go.

At our destination,
No need of inspiration,
Mountains, icy slippery,
Alcorn sets the pace;
Hardy follows after
Sliding on his after
Banged up! Slap, slap,
At the base.

There go Fred and Janet,
And Edwards on his stomach,
Larry, Bill and Donna
Follow with a blow:
Bouncing Prof. Naylor
Riding on his saucer,
Mrs. Naylor, Hoot! Hoot!
Go! Man! Go!

Haslett took Krutenat
In a game of ping-pong
Nine out of ten
Games in a row,
Uncle Ed the busdriver,
Watching television,
Bud, Gene and Verna,
Shuffle! Deal! Throw!

Supper was so yummy,
Felt good in our tummy,
Cake for dessert,
With E.N.C. on top.
Skating in the evening,
Ethel, Bob and Amy,
Bob's head cracked ice,
Bang! Ouch! Bop!

Night hawks Webby,
Dyment, Merki, Taylor
Didn't start for sacky
'Till twelve-thirty.
Reed and Bradley
Sleeping oh so soundly
All of a sudden — bed broke,
Down they went.

Early next morning
Greeted with a snowstorm
Sleepy seeds in Webby's eyes
He pours coffee in his juice.
Flying down the ski slope,
Soulia went on skates,
While Emma watched with fear,
O-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-oh!

Skating, bruises, broken necks
Meals and all are ended,
Off to get our luggage,
To pack on the bus.
Now a bumpy bus ride
Singing, sleeping, hurting,
Here we are Juniors!
Home for repairs!

Please fix us up!

Al Everton attempts to pull Prof. Naylor along the ice.

SENIOR SNEAK

Joyce Bradley tries to move the pounds and pounds of snow from the skating rink.

Lo Rae Reed joins other Seniors in clearing the skating rink.

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF THE STUDENT BODY ORGANIZATION

Serving as the voice of student opinion not only to the student body but also to the faculty and administration, to the Wollaston-Quincy-Boston area, and to other colleges and universities, the Executive Council of our Student Body Organization was active in all areas of student life this year.

Under the capable leadership of Branson Roberts and various committee chairmen, the codification of campus rules and regulations was accomplished. Off-campus students were brought in closer touch with the campus by being better informed on campus activities. Members of the student body were invited to present special problems to the Executive Council at its regular weekly meetings.

The beautiful new pine-panelled office located in the Recreation Hall became the scene of many committee meetings as our able veep, Mary Jane Dunsworth, directed plans for our three annual Student Council parties.

Through its membership in the United States National Student Association, the Council promoted student interest in events on other college campuses and in national affairs throughout the year.

The Council supported and promoted campus religious activities by encouraging attendance at chapel, special services, and Boston Youthtime, supported the athletic programs of the college by encouraging attendance at society games and providing transportation to nearby Crusader games, and promoted interest on the cultural level by encouraging attendance at the newly initiated Artist Series.

President, Branson Roberts, confers with Advisor, Dr. Brickley about the calendar of coming events.

Treasurer, Lowell Hall goes over the budget with Secretary, Robert Mann.

Janie Dunsworth, Vice President, pauses in the midst of her planning for the Spring Party.

Each year at E.N.C. we all acquire new mental pictures of fond times spent with friends and classmates. We have tried to capture these memories and present them to you in tangible form — the 1959 Nautilus.

With a new publishing company, a capable photographer, and a cooperative and dependable staff, we began the big task of planning, writing, checking, and rechecking. We finally saw through the heaps of layout sheets, copy sheets, pictures, and proofs and produced this yearbook for you.

Even under the added pressures of securing pictures after chapel and obtaining advertising from churches on the districts, we kept uppermost in our minds the goal of creating a Nautilus which would represent the goals of our school and the progress of our church, as well as a collection of your memories. We have tried to produce a high quality yearbook that will be of value to you and one that you will be proud of and will cherish in years to come.

We hope you enjoy it.

Both creative and persuasive elements are required to produce an interesting Campus Camera every other week. Creatively, students from the course in college news writing and students who simply enjoy writing express the feelings, opinions, and thoughts of the student body by reporting on campus events.

Writing news and feature stories gives the staff members valuable experience in expressing their originality. Sports writers had an excellent chance to apply their vocabulary of sports terms on page four.

Featured on page two this year were letters to the editor, book reviews, the cartoon which was always new, and occasionally poetry. Interesting columns expressing personal opinion provided for stimulating reading.

Having the paper delivered and paid for is as important as having it printed. Selling advertising space, promoting circulation, and distributing the papers developed the talents of the business staff.

To bring you the well-written campus and world events as they happened plus many features has been the aim of the Campus Camera staff this year. We sincerely hope you have enjoyed it.

DELTA SOCIETY

Fred Boden, Delta President.

Free hot dogs lured twenty-nine into the Sigma Delta Delta society as the Deltas presented "an outing in the Blue Hills" at Rush Day.

New additions to the society proved valuable as the Black and Gold fought hard to win a gridiron victory.

Excitement was at its peak as the dribblers ran neck in neck with Sigma Sam's team on the basketball floor. The girls came through to tie for second place in the volleyball fight.

With old material, a few practices built a basketball team that made a fine showing for the eager spectators.

Some students are just a member of a society, but the Deltas this year showed fine society spirit in their loyalty to the Greek which they had chosen.

The annual spring outing crowned another year as a loyal Delta. While some looked back with only memories, others looked ahead to a few more years as a Delta.

KAPPA SOCIETY

Larry Hybertson, Kappa President.

The Sigma Delta Kappa society began this year on the right foot by taking first place in the Rush Day displays. The Kappa display featured a foreign car showroom complete with signs urging the freshmen to join the Kappa society. When Rush Day was over we discovered that thirty-two fine freshmen had joined our growing society.

In the fall the men of the gridiron proudly displayed new football uniforms which were partially paid for by the sale of ball point pens to society members.

Throughout the year, the Kappas displayed excellent sportsmanship as they actively participated in the various intramural sports: football, boys' and girls' basketball, girls' volleyball, ping-pong, tennis, and track.

During the year some of the boys bought jackets displaying the Kappa colors and Greek letters. The girls, not to be outdone, purchased blazers identifying them as loyal supporters of the Blue and White.

Another wonderful year with the Sigma Delta Kappas was crowned by our annual spring outing which will hold fond memories for all of us — especially the seniors.

SIGMA SOCIETY

Jim Jones, Sigma President.

Fifty-nine greenies were charmed by story-book characters on Rush Day as the Sigma Delta Sigmas were off to another exciting and eventful year as a leading society on campus.

Late September and October found a group of our husky young men fighting in the mud to come up with second place in the inter-society football fight. November found our enthusiastic young lassies selling homemade tarts, cookies, and cake to earn money for new cheering equipment.

December began another successful Sigma year as our boys dribbled to many victories on the basketball floor. Near spring Sigma jackets could be seen on campus, as well as pins and emblems identifying the members of the Red and Black.

The year was climaxed by a "good time by all" on the annual society outing in the spring, and many freshmen were glad they had joined Sigma Delta Sigma.

ZETA SOCIETY

Warner Stanford, Zeta President.

Every new student at E.N.C. is "rushed" to join one of our four Sigma Delta coed societies. Zetas wished the Frosh well as they urged the greenies to "join Zeta and your wish will come true." And seventy-four newcomers liked their suggestion.

With the new material, Zeta became an up-and-coming society this year as they showed their skill and cooperation on the gym floor and the football field. The females of the society captured second place in volleyball to give honors to their chosen group.

During the year, the Zeta girls donned sharp green blazers and new members purchased triangle-shaped pins bearing the Greek letters of their society.

Spiritual refreshment was provided by the all-society prayer meetings held each week.

Zetas will be remembered this year for their enthusiasm and their bright outlook even when near defeat.

Many look back with fond memories on that last Zeta outing which was memorable in many respects and not only to the seniors.

A CAPPELLA

Hearts were thrilled and spirits were lifted as the A Cappella Choir sang the very effective "Jacob's Ladder" many times throughout the year.

Forty young voices blended beautifully under the direction of Prof. Greg Larkin as the choir provided the music for the cornerstone laying, the Holiness Crusade, and the Christmas chapel.

These talented students further applied their ability by helping in the two Choral Union presentations of the year.

All other memories fade into the background at the mention of the spring tour when the choir boarded the Greyhound and traveled across the Zone.

We are proud of the A Cappella as they represent E.N.C. to the community civic organizations and our churches in the East.

Greg Larkin, A Cappella Director

Organized last fall, the Art Club has provided an outlet for students interested in painting and the other arts. Would-be artists set up their easels and tried their hands at their favorite hobby.

The most painted building in the world in Rockport, Massachusetts, was the object of the October tour. The group saw the seven motiphes and enjoyed meeting many well-known artists.

In the spring, the club was able to secure an artist to come in to give lessons, since E.N.C. has no active art department this year.

When students who enjoy the same things get together, a good time is sure to be the result.

"Our high respect for a well-read man is praise enough of literature." — Emerson

The purpose of the Literature-Speech Club is to encourage the reading of better literature and to give the members an opportunity to express their creative talent under the guidance of our college English professors.

Early this fall we toured the historical towns of Lexington, Concord, and Salem, visiting the homes of Emerson, Hawthorne, and Louisa May Alcott, and touring the "House of Seven Gables."

In December we enjoyed a social time together at our annual Christmas party.

This spring presented as our major project for the year a play-reading entitled, "A Boy and His Cart," in which the members of the club took the leading parts.

The House Council, composed of representatives from Munro Hall, Manchester, and Willow House, in trying to make the dormitories a better place in which to live, meet with the house mothers and our head counselor to make rules and enforce the regulations of the dormitories.

Some of the special projects of our House Council this year included our annual Open House early in the fall. Everyone was invited to make an inspection tour of the dorms, viewing student's rooms and prayer rooms. The evening was climaxed by a time of fun, prizes, and refreshments in the college dining hall.

Our House Council also arranged for students to take charge of inspirational after-dinner prayer meetings each Sunday in the parlor.

During the Christmas season, the House Council decorated the parlor and lobby of Munro Hall.

HOUSE COUNCIL

SPANISH CLUB

Each year students interested in the Spanish language, in Spanish people, and in the customs of our neighbors to the South organize to learn together.

This year we saw travelogues of Spanish speaking countires, and listened to missionaries working with Spanish speaking immigrants.

At Christmas time, we gathered around a pinata to celebrate Christmas as our foreign friends would celebrate it.

By graduation time, we all hope to have developed a better understanding of foreign knowledge in such a way as to prevent bias and prejudice in our judgment of mankind.

PRE-MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

The Pre-Medical Association is organized to aid students seriously considering some branch of medicine as a career. Its membership includes future doctors, nurses, laboratory technicians, and several registered nurses.

This year's monthly meeting included special speakers, films, and trips to hospitals and medical schools. Among the speakers were specialists in surgery, pediatrics, and internal medicine.

Our December club meeting became the annual Christmas party held just before we went home for vacation.

One of the activities of our club this year was making a collection of literature from the prominent medical and nursing schools of the country for the convenience of our prospective doctors and nurses.

The Honor Society was established to encourage students to attain and maintain high scholastic standing and to promote campus-wide interest in scholarship.

In striving for honor grades, members are preparing themselves for graduate school and professional careers. Through their scholastic achievements these students have acquired the discipline of study and the joy of learning, and are developing well-designed plans for progress throughout their lives.

Election of members for each new year is announced in the final chapel service as each member is presented with a certificate and the traditional Honor Society pin. Membership to the Honor Society is by election only and is maintained by outstanding scholastic achievement.

The Chemistry Association is organized to stimulate interest in the many fields of chemistry and to promote activities which may increase the student's knowledge of the various branches of chemistry. Practical and vocational applications of recent advances in Chemistry are emphasized in our monthly meetings.

During first semester our association made an afternoon field trip to the new M.I.T. Nuclear Reactor and invited Dr. Robert Eddy of Tufts to give a lecture-demonstration on "Lavosier's Mistake."

Second semester found the club visiting the Monsanto sulfuric acid plant. Dr. Rachow of Harvard and Boston University's Dr. Baker gave informative lectures on their own work in chemical research.

The Biology Club was founded to promote the interest in the biological sciences, to provide outlets for this interest, and to bring about, through science, a richer realization of the Creator of the universe.

The club activities for this year included the regularly scheduled monthly meetings, club projects, and field trips. Students registered for General Biology were especially invited to take part in field trips for part of the course requirements.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America are organized on our campus to aid the large numbers of students who are planning to become public school teachers.

Programs at our monthly meetings were varied and very interesting this year. September brought back three alumni, John Bigelow, Eldon Rosenberger, and Gladys Caldwell, who gave us their impressions of teaching and related some of their classroom experiences to us.

The November program consisted of a speech demonstration given by Miss McElroy of the Hingham schools and eleven fifth graders.

Other programs for the year included an interesting talk given by a local high school guidance director, project work, and club trips.

To students preparing to be teachers, ministers and doctors, one of the most important aspects of learning is in developing an understanding of the human individual. With this in mind, students organized a group which would foster this idea and promote their desire to learn how to cope with situations as they might arrive.

Movies, lectures and discussion groups brought out the ideas, theories, and modern trends in the field of psychology.

Our fall trip to Danvers Mental Hospital last fall gave us special realistic application of the problems of the psychologist today.

Seeing these patients as our guide talked with them showed us all the value of a rational mind and helped to raise our interest in this field.

"Rappel" . . . "belay" . . . "piton" have a definite meaning to a group of enthusiastic students who began this year of the Club with training classes in rock climbing and mountaineering techniques. Thanksgiving again found us back at Pinkham Notch Camp at the foot of beautiful Mt. Washington. Unforgettable were our few days spent in hiking, climbing and skiing. Spring found our Club uniting with the Providence Barrington Bible College Outing Club to climb in the Mt. Chicorua region. Mountain climbing has come to have a wonderful meaning for many students who tried it for the first time this year. The call of the higher hills is ever before us!

By far the strongest club on campus, the Physical Culture Club has been established to keep its members in top physical condition. Eight hundred pounds of weights enabled our fellows to make a fine showing this year against Harvard and M.I.T. in the annual meet.

Weight-lifting builds and tones muscles, keeping the whole body in condition for all sports. It has been proved that the best coordinated athletes work out with weights.

Club announcements always brought a laugh in the dining hall, but these fellows are not neglecting one of the essentials of the person — his physical body.

CHESS CLUB

ROW ONE: V. Slaka. C. Novy, D. Lynch, R. Davidson. N. Politi.

For the second year, interest has produced an organization of students who want to promote a game of skill and concentration.

Some members began as novices with little more than a knowledge of which men were pawns and which were crowns. Others came from families who played chess every winter night. Whatever our skill, we enjoyed the challenge of a competitive concentration.

Although we did not have enough members for an elaborate tournament each member soon played all other members until we knew who was the uncrowned champ

Competition had been keen; we had practiced many hours with the goal of enjoying competition as well as developing our power of concentration for future use; we have enjoyed the fellowship that an organized group offered.

The Women's Glee Club gives girls interested in singing a chance to develop their ability and introduces them to public performance.

The repertoire of the Glee Club this year included secular and sacred music. We girls will never forget the hard practice on our favorites, "Grace" and "Have Ye Received the Blessing."

Activities for the year included a trip to the Cambridge Nazarene Church for a Sunday morning service and a performance for the Wollaston Church on Sunday nights.

We have become a closely-knit group as we have enjoyed ourselves through expression in music this year.

The goal of our debating team this year has been to gain as much experience as possible in the hopes of building a team for future years. The team, composed entirely of freshmen and sophomores, met this goal by participating in twelve tournaments. Meets took these underclassmen to Tufts, Vermont University, St. Anselms, Harvard, M.I.T., and west to Dartmouth, Northwestern, and Notre Dame. Our debaters are grateful to Dr. Akers and Prof. Cameron for their invaluable advice and their welcomed moral support.

This year was climaxed by the Final District Eight Tournament held at the Hotel New Yorker in New York City. It was a great year and provided for a promising future.

DEBATE

"So others may know our thoughts" is the purpose of the 1959 GREENBOOK, the annual publication of our freshman composition classes.

Under the editorship of Pauline Webster, the original compositions this year have been organized into four sections: Living through God, education, friendships, nature. The best student compositions, as judged by Professors Spangenberg, Young, and Goodnow, are divided into these sections.

Ronald Ward, business manager, is in charge of paper, photography, and binding costs.

A new policy dealing with Freshman superlatives has been initiated this year. The new agreement says that one person can hold no more than one superlative.

The Student-Faculty Wives Association of Eastern Nazarene College is organized to provide fellowship for the married and unmarried women associated with the college. Under the leadership of their president, Sue Rice, the Association had seven very interesting programs throughout the year.

The October meeting was held in the form of a get-acquainted informal tea. In November the faculty couples invited students to their homes for a time of games and fellowship. December provided HERALD THE SEASON to help the ladies in their Christmas buying.

A White Elephant sale was held in January and a surprise Valentine's Party in February. The wives donned new spring styles for the style show in March. Breakfast in the Dugout with election of new officers brought to a close a year of much fun for all the women.

BULLS AND BEARS

One of the two new clubs organized at E.N.C. early this year is the Bulls and Bears, representing respectively the optimists and pessimists of the stock market.

The objectives of the Bulls and Bears are to provide a means of contact between college students and the business community, provide students with information about vocational opportunities and employment possibilities, and promote and publicize the economics and business administration curriculum at Eastern Nazarene College.

This year we have had speakers in several fields, including salesmanship, marketing, real estate, law insurance, and management at our monthly meetings.

If, as Good says, "Happiness consists in activity; such is the constitution of our nature: it is a running stream, and not a stagnant pool," enjoying life to its fullest extent cannot be accomplished if the physical body is neglected. With each game — won or lost — one gains a new start and a new determination to fight just as hard in this game of life.

"N" CLUB

The "N" Club, under the capable leadership of President, Merritt Mann, highlighted its activities this year by sponsoring the Crusader sports. Tickets to the games have been sold by members of the club, Crusader pins were sold, and an official Crusader tag day was held to raise money to be used for Crusader cheering uniforms.

A new addition to the Crusader games this year was the election of yell-leaders to work with the cheerleaders at the games and pep rallies. The "N" Club also provided yell-leaders uniforms. At each game, the club sponsored concessions and collected tickets.

The "N" Club also provided printed programs for sale at the Crusader games. These featured pictures of the team, the "N" Club, the Girls' All-Star team, cheerleaders and yell-leaders, as well as the team rosters, and the season schedule.

The club sponsored all intramural activities, provided the referees, and paid for the gymnasium rentals as well as other incidental expenses of the college sports program. They also helped the new E.N.C. hockey team arrange a game with Gordon College during the Homecoming weekend.

Membership to the club is determined on the basis of athletic ability, sportsmanship, scholastic standing, Christian character, and leadership. Members must be enrolled in the college for at least three semesters.

Officers for the 1958-59 season were: Merritt Mann, president; Esther Hunter, vice-president; Sally Fuller, secretary; Bob Cubie, business manager; and Bill Webb, chaplain.

E.N.C.'s first male cheerleaders, Bob Zollinhofer and Ron Ward were in action during each game.

Crusader fans and cheerleaders, J. Hissom, C. Reynolds, J. Zeigler, and S. Gardner, whoop it up during the game with Curry.

The Deltas, after finishing in second place for the last two years, came up to the fall classic this year with a different idea in mind. The determined Black and Gold swept through the season undefeated and captured the elusive football crown at last.

The outstanding Delta defense was unscored upon and the offense struck quickly and accurately under the steady passing arm of senior quarterback, Fred Boden. This was also the final season for Bill Webb, who for four years has been among the fastest runners in any team, and Lowell Hall, a hard charging end, who will also be graduating.

ROW ONE: L. Singell, L. Hall, D. Clifton, G. Woods, C. Gold, R. Mann, B. Reeves, B. Webb. ROW TWO: F. Boden, W. Briggs, V. Slaka, D. French, A. Royall, J. Bricker, B. Jones.

SIGMA DELTA DELTA

Delta and Zeta Football players clown in locker room after a muddy, rain-drenching 6—0 contest which found Delta the victor.

Fred Boden, ace Delta quarterback, in typical statuesque pose searches downfield for a receiver.

The Scarlet and Black Sigma footballers showed their usual brilliance at the season's offset by whipping the '57 champion, Kappas, but due to ineligibility and injuries, their vaunted offensive punch was hindered by a weakened defense.

The Sigma's best team effort and the finest game of the year was a 0—0 tie with the champion Deltas in a mud smeared rough-and-tumble battle, which saw two determined defenses hold for the entire sixty minutes of play.

This was the final season of play for ends, Merritt Mann and Jack Smith who have consistently starred for the Sigmas for four years.

ROW ONE: R. Sharpes, J. Smith, R. Mann, R. Johnson, G. Jernegan, W. Wilhoyte, R. Esper, M. Mann. ROW TWO: W. Couchenour, R. Ward, E. Speakman, J. Jones, R. Zollinhofer, K. Kern.

ROW ONE: W. Alworth, A. Yacubian, D. Hutchinson, J. Weslow, R. Norman, E. Phillips.
ROW TWO: D. Johnson, R. German, B. Roberts, C. Pillsbury.

Last year's championship Kappa squad came back fighting to retain their title but the new eight-man type of game did not seem to fit the Big Blue's usual pattern of play.

The Kappas, although losing four games were the only team to score on the champion Deltas.

Next year's Kappa team will be lacking the services of two of their stars with Dave Hutchinson and Bob Cubie graduating. The pass catching of "Hutch," which was at times phenomenal, and the dual role of blocking back and kicker played by Bob Cubie will be sorely missed next year.

SIGMA DELTA KAPPA

Kappa's Bob Cubie punts out of the end zone protected by Branson Roberts and Harry Foster as the illustrious Delta defense charges.

Dick Esper, Sigma tackle, and Ken Kern, Sigma end, pursue Bob Cubie downfield.

Bogged deeply in the cellar for the second straight year, the Zetas, nevertheless, were in there fighting for the entire grid season. Although they received a fine crop of freshmen, their inexperience and lack of scoring punch hurt them considerable.

The Green and Gold is looking foreward to next year with much optomism, hoping for another opportunity to win the elusive crown with one year's playing experience behind this new talent.

The Zetas will be hurt offensively next year by the loss of star end, John Chavier, who has been the backbone of the team for four years.

ROW ONE: W. Roler, S. Rieder, E. Gonsalves, J. Chavier. ROW TWO: T. Milne, P. Lutes, E. Sanford, A. Pancarik.

The 1958-59 edition of the Crusaders will perhaps prove to be the best team that E.N.C. has ever floored. They have methodically chopped to pieces all of their opponents in the first half of the season, while hardly even stopping to catch their second wind, and have posted a 9—0 record during this time. In their first nine games they tallied a total of 730 points only allowing their opponents 458, while posting a healthy 81.1 points per game average.

In the first two home games the Crusaders met and defeated Johnson City Seminary of New York and Gordon College by 72—52 and 73—42, respectively. The first two away games saw the Crusaders defeat a big Curry College team 74—57 and they made it two in a row at Gordon by a score of 65—47.

For the first time in Crusader history, the team traveled west to meet Malone College of Canton, Ohio, and won 86—69 in a game sponsored by the Akron District. Two nights later on their swing back east, the Crusaders bettered the Nyack Parsons by a score of 96—52.

The Crusaders opened their second home stand by defeating Nyack 89—46 and Providence Barrington Bible College 97—40. In another trip west, the "Big Red" met Roberts Wesleyan of Rochester in what proved to be their closest contest of the season, winning by 14 points. On February 13 they again met Roberts Wesleyan in the Annual Homecoming Game which was highlighted by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

The secret of the success of Coach Bradley's charges was their well-balanced, fast-break offense, and a tight-pressing man-to-man defense. Contributing to this balance has been co-captain Jack Smith's deadly outside shooting combined with the hard driving of Dick Mann, while in the front court co-captain David Hutchinson's fine high pivot play has consistently set up his teammates not to mention his inside scoring and rebounding. Along with his scoring Merritt Mann has turned in a fine job of rebounding which has greatly facilitated the Crusaders' fast-break. Jim Bricker, Charles Pillsbury and Bill Wilhoyte have proved to be stalwarts on defense and play making at their guard positions.

It's up and in, as Dick Mann scores on a lay-up against Milton's Curry College.

Charlie Pillsbury fires at the Curry basket for more E.N.C. points.

Jack Smith hits to seal the win over Curry College.

SIGMA DELTA DELTA

If a motto or a slogan was to be given to the Sigmas during this Society Basketball season, it would be "the team to beat!" As has been their fortune in the past few seasons of play, once again they placed a smooth, versatile and effective offensive squad on the court.

Led by Joe Andrews, Bill Couchenour, Jim Jones and Ray Sharpes, they quickly compiled four straight victories before they were stopped by the Deltas in the fifth game of season play.

To help the Red and Black in the 1958-59 season were Freshmen, Nick Politi, Jerry Jernegan, Dick Esper and Bob Zollinhofer. During the second semester, another freshman, Bill Wilhoyte joined the team while Joe Andrews, Ray Sharpes, and Bill Couchenour left to play Crusader ball.

Once again, the Delta squad made an attempt to pull out of the cellar. The potential was there, but the Deltas found it difficult to obtain a winning combination. Lack of a good playmaker, added to the loss by injury of the team's best outside shot, Don MacKay, accounted for the team's poor showing.

B. A. Hayes, J. Neiderheiser, B. Thompson, G. Savage, J. Smith.

John Naylor scores against the Kappas.

Larry Singell lays one up during Kappa game.

ROW ONE: G. Jernegan, P. Garron, N. Politi. ROW TWO: Coach Mann, M. Mosgrove, R. Zollinhofer, J. Jones, R. Mann, W. Merki, W. Couchenour, J. Andrews, R. Sharpes.

SIGMA DELTA SIGMA

However, the Deltas did manage to win an upset victory over the society champion Sigmas. The Deltas were unable to find the range in their remaining games, losing all of them. This gave the Deltas a season record of two wins and four losses at the time of this writing. John Naylor, Bruce Reeves, Glenn Woods, Don MacKay, Larry Singell, Dave Clifton, Dwayne Byers, and Bill Jones formed the list of returnees. Freshmen, Dave Lynch, and second semester students, Ricky Brushett and Colin Campbell helped to complete the 58—59 squad.

The upperclassmen returning to round out the ball team were: Paul Garron, Bill Merki, Melvin Mosgrove, and Bob Mann.

The Sigma "Sams" in acquiring the basketball crown boasted of a five wins and one loss record at the time of this writing.

Top-scoring individuals were Joe Andrews, Jim Jones and Bill Couchenour.

Paul Garron goes high off the floor to control a tipoff.

Ray Sharpes connects for two Sigma points.

ROW ONE: G. Olsen. ROW TWO: B. Harding, G. Henck, J. Hissom, B. Maness, N. McCleod, C. Reynolds.

SIGMA DELTA KAPPA

"Don't give up the ship" seemed to be the Kappas' motto as they very slowly started the season. To most, at first glance the Kappas looked as if they were not going to have a strong team at all. But slowly through the experience gained by freshmen, Dave Whippo, Ron Johnson, Ed Phillips and Rudy Widman, they managed to start rolling. Once Charlie Pillsbury, Howie Williams and Jim Paynter returned during the second semester, the Blue and White seriously challenged the Sigmas for first place honors but were unable to capture the title and wound up in second place with a three wins and three losses record at the time of this printing.

The returnees from last year's team were Bob Cox, Dave Lindsay, Bob Mahood, Larry Hybertson, and Bob Cubie. Another new member added to the squad was Allen Yacubian who carried the game by himself against the Sigmas. Those individuals excelling in regular season play were Dave Whippo, Charlie Pillsbury, and Howie Williams.

J. Lambert, F. Hunter, P. Whitehead, G. Gutshall, S. McCloy, E. Hunter, P. Kinsey.

Dave Whippo lays one in despite the efforts of Deltas Larry Singell and Dave Lynch.

Dave Lindsay goes above a cluster of Kappa and Delta players to capture a rebound.

SIGMA DELTA ZETA

The characteristic word, or motto, describing the Zetas in their bid for the first division was "almost."

The Green and Gold, after starting off on the right foot with an opening night victory, lost the next four games before they could finally pick up a win. This delay kept them from a chance at the crown.

Their regular season record ended with two wins and four losses at the time of this printing.

The Zeta "Zekes" have quite a number returning from last year's team which gave them almost a complete veteran squad. Those returning were: John Chavier, Larry Casler, John Huggins, Larry Klumas, Dave Anderson, Phil Bryner, Andy Pancarik, and Jim MacLeod.

New talent also helped to comprise the team. They were: Larry Rines, Bob Falke, Dick Holbert, and Dick Wycoff. Indicating real talent on the court this year were Andy Pancarik, John Chavier, and Freshman, Larry Rines.

According to Coach Charles Caldwell, the team had plenty of potential but started working together too late for the victory.

John Chavier, Bob Mann and Jim Huggins move into a position to take the rebound during a Zeta-Sigma game.

Sigma, Nick Politi, reaches the ball first despite the efforts of Zetas Casler and Pancarik.

ROW ONE: L. Worth, L. Redeye, D. Summers. ROW TWO: N. Carver, V. Stanford, J. Sorenson, S. Gardner.

D. Altic, S. McCloy, P. Phipps, C. Wade, F. Hunter, E. Walker, M. Bryner, E. Hunter, D. Thatcher, P. Whitehead, K. J. Mann.

B. Sommer, D. Sommer, M. Johnson, S. Gardner, E. Sapp, B. Hodge, B. Hayes, L. Redeye, C. Gilchrist, M. Price, S. Fuller.

A tip-over from the front player, Elaine Lynch, should mean another point for the Deltas.

Featuring an exceptionally even distribution of both ability and spirit, the volleyball season this year witnessed many close, tense games. Losing only once to the Deltas, the Kappas managed to retain that extra push which enabled them to take the championship. Although the Deltas were tied for first place throughout the earlier part of the season, the Zetas steadily worked their way toward the top and in the end, tied with the Deltas for second place. After four straight years in first place, the Sigmas slipped into last place collecting only one win over the Deltas.

As the season progressed, the Sigmas and Zetas in particular showed much improvement. In the last few games, it would be very difficult to say which team was the better one or the more enthusiastic. Regardless of the score, each girl enjoyed the privilege of clean fun and good sportsmanship.

Zeta teammates wait to see if the spike of Cinda Gilchrist goes over the net.

Peg Phipps and Sally Fuller struggle for a rebound during a Kappa-Zeta game.

Laying aside the volleyball and net for another year, the girl athletes of E.N.C. turned their attention to basketball.

As was expected, the addition of promising freshmen strengthened the teams of all four societies. Throughout the season, the Kappas enthusiastically led the way. Close behind, the Sigmas and Zetas struggled for second place. Although the Deltas were unable to win consistently, they were not lacking in enthusiasm.

Each of the games provided much excitement and recreation. Most of all, the spirit of good sportsmanship was evident to all. Each of us were assured that we were not only developing habits of good sportsmanship but we were also taking advantage of an opportunity to develop physically.

Joan Ziegler tries a long one from the corner.

Without the wonderful cooperation of each member of the staff, we are certain we could never have produced the thirty-seventh volume of the Nautilus.

However, in addition to the staff, we wish to extend our gratitude to Ed, Jack, and Bob of Miller Studios, Tom McHugh and Harold Gilbert of American Yearbook Co., Dr. Alvin H. Kauffman, our faculty advisor and to all the advertisers who made the 1959 Nautilus financially possible.

Cinda Lee Gilchrist, Editor-in-Chief
Donald P. Hammer, Business Manager

The NAUTILUS is a member of
THE ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION
